Sinking

As I sit I listen

To how the rain runs down the walls

Drenched by only memories

Each single tear that falls

Though my heart's left wondering

Why the lonely ship set sail

When the sea's forecast was stormy

An icy, stinging hail

Now slowly sinking to the surface

A lonely man once cried

A ship that sinks while wondering

Is a ship that never died

Now buried beneath the icy waves

The painted glass of time

I'm left here often pondering

Why your no longer mine

While the ship it shows its gratitude

For the tears dripped down the wall

What ship left bay at all?

For no man left was standing

To tell that tale at all

But is beckoned to the icy waves

Towards the captains call

One lonely sailor lost at night

With nothing but an oar

Is a dead man sinking to the surface

Straight to Satan's door

The bell strikes not once

But several times, to shout to all above

All who slowly float on by

Each broken hearted love

Each chime a call to the dying

To pass to that happy place

A meaningful, echo passes the waters

As each sailor loses their race

Now the sailors stand on land

With no boat in bay at all
But they hear a ship's chime echo
Deaths un-holy call

Davie Magill

Together Apart

So close yet so far apart

You've ran away with a part of my heart

Left me here pining for a hint of affection

Instead of looking at your photograph and my own reflection

It's not your fault, I know, but I've loved all who I've lost

Our love won't come and go without some sort of cost

As much as I need you by my side

You're never there, you run, you hide

My eyes fill with tears thinking of you

All those plans we had that just didn't do

We were gonna marry, be together, never to part

But times have changed and now you're gone, with a part of my heart

I longed to hold you close, for it to never end

Even though when we stopped it felt my heart would never mend

The touch of your skin. The way you ruffled my hair

The pain I feel now is too much to bear

The touch of your lips, your heart beating like a drum

Love doesn't come often, it's lucky to some

Even though we're still together, it's hard for me to say

But it's true that I love you, in every single way

You've never said that true, you've never meant what you've said

I long for it now, after the love my heart has bled

It hurts when we're together, is that how love is meant to feel?

All I want is my hero, my love without the veil

So I'll ask one more time, for the words I long to hear

Do you really love me? Am I all that you hold dear?

Or am I a faded memory, a picture on your wall?

Perhaps that's the best place for me, since I've lost it all

Davie Magill

Best Laid Plans

Every waking moment

Stuck inside my head

Thinking of the moment

You cut my heart, it bled

We're faded distant memories

We're pictures on the walls

Broken by each other

Our silly little flaws

And now we're both left sitting

With photos in our hands

Thinking of where we went wrong

These things happen to best laid plans

All i want is a chance to show you,

That my heart it beats for you

If this world was made without you

Then this world would suffer true

All I want is to say I love you

One last time right in your ear

To make you conquer your feelings

Give in to all you fear

Davie Magill

The Music Inside

The echo of your breath
And the heart inside your chest
An orchestral symphony,
As you lie and rest

Your voice a lowly whisper
A sad ballad without tune
Calling out with compassion
Your broken heart came soon

Your ribs a broken xylophone
Broken and bashed into defeat
You give out a scream with each smack
Your deafening roar so loud, as you cry out beat by beat

Then the panting of you breathing
As you hold your battered side
You realise your potential
That orchestra inside

Davie Magill

Wide Asleep

The echo shatter, glass break
A thousand sounds, a single wake
The morning after, wide asleep
Call your name, you've sank so deep

The falling glass, splinter clear
Blood settles, you lie near
The other sleepers lie awake
Cut to pieces, makes me shake

All are dead, with life inside
Inside each body, a soul does hide
I look around, and cannot move
I'm wide asleep, I'm gonna lose

You raise your head, you scream

You shout my name, i talk back but it's all in vain, I'm gone too, left this place, my body is left an empty space, I'm a soul trapped inside, help me, help me, i can't hide, death has come, I've been spied

Davie Magill

Love's Course

When you looked into my eyes

A part of my heart, began to kick-start

Again

I didn't think I'd ever feel this way

But I can only pray, that this feeling, lasts forever

Maybe I was immature, of my feelings was unsure

But I know that you are perfect, for me

Oh baby

Listen to your heart

It beating in the dark, you know that our love is true

There's nothing that i wouldn't do, for you

Baby, listen to the rain, its crying out in pain 'cause it knows you should be with me, apart was never meant to be, oh baby why can't you see, you'd have to be blind to miss me

Standing, outside on my own

Away from you I've grown

And now I am alone

We should be together

Like a pigeon and a feather

Instead of me out here in whatever weather

You said this love would last forever

Unfortunately it didn't we lasted for never

You never loved me, you never believed me, you never trusted me

And what was it; you were too blind to see

And now my love for you, a faded distant memory

Davie Magill

Swallowed

I started to watch the sun come around
The sky so blue, the birds soaring from the ground
Listening to the sea, the waves and the sound
The landscape it echoes warning the ships that are bound

I hear the guns blasting, the fight that erupts
As ships quickly battle, the world it disrupts
The blood in the water, slowly moves and corrupts
A scary red cloud, a symbol of a fight that irrupts

The smoke a symbol, a warning to all in range
That battle ensues, men will be maimed
Those who are killed will never be named
But the sea that swallows them will be famed

Davie Magill

Missing

When you aren't here

When I'm alone

The pain inside

Is a pain I have not known?

Even when we talk on the phone

It's not the same, as by your side

I feel so alone

I'm almost empty. The pain that I feel

It's like no other, we're still together

You make me feel like we're one

Without you I'm none

You often don't talk and I wait

For hours maybe days, anticipation of an answer

But I get no answer, you avoid and worm your way out, you're a chancer

What do I amount to, do you see me for all I'm worth

I may not be complete, but you're my missing piece

I love you; you're my everything, my fight, my gain, my peace

Davie Magill

Played

When the rain comes around
And turns your world upside down
Put a brave face on and smile
As the world turns round and round
Listen to the sound, the growing of life
The whisper gently made by the wind
A simple trickle, washing the sinned
As the rain bellows down
Turning that smile into a frown
Listen to the world all around
Listen to it beating, that bellowing sound

The heart is an instrument
It beats to a tune
To love we are beaten, but some hearts are immune
All i do is love you, and get nothing back
It causes that pain inside like I'm under attack
But all you do is sit, you laugh and you slack
And all I want is your affection
I want some love and attention

Instead I'm being destroyed from the inside out

You're pulling on my heart strings, throwing me about

It makes me scream and shout

Say things I sometimes regret

But baby do not fret

I love you

But you don't love me too

Davie Magill

Birthday Poem

Yesterday was your special day

It only comes once a year

A birthday is quite magical

A day we hold quite dear

But to me every day is my birthday

As long as I'm with you

I hope you had a great birthday

Because i had a great day too

Davie Magill

Love

Baby I can tell

That there's something on your mind

The way you look at me

You're the way i want to be

And that sparkle in your eyes

Shows a glint right to your soul

I want to make you mine

Be with you until the end of time

I know that you have feelings for me

It's written on your face

That happy glow about you

Makes my heart race

I want to say I love you

But what would that do?

I've already to you

Now i want to hear you say it too

Davie Magill

Take Back My Happiness

My heart it marches on

As i stand, I sing my song

Listening to the sound of that soft old heart beating

As I sing I watch you leaving

The stinging rain it belts on down

As my face slowly develops a familiar frown

Under the water my knees begin to buckle

And my body lets out a painful chuckle

Perhaps the simple melody made by the rain and my heart

Is a pathetic fallacy, it knows you've torn me apart

You'll always have that piece of my soul

And i can't run to get it, i fall like a newly born foal

You've got my tune, my happy beat

And as i lie here drowned I give up, give in to defeat

But no-one will stop me, I'll get it back

You'll come back to me, perhaps for one last attack

I will not be broken, not ever again

You've broken me once, now what's left to gain

When you come back I'll take what was once mine

I'll be able to listen to each happy chime

Davie Magill

More Than a Friend

I don't know how to tell you

Because i feel we're close

I thought i better tell you

The way that means the most

I'd write a silly poem!

Tell you how i feel!

I dunno what it is!

But you have me spinning like a wheel

I've got this feeling right down deep

Hidden away inside

I dunno what to do anymore

I can't just let it hide

I want to be with you

Every night and day

I dunno what it is!

I've never felt this way

I know we're great friends!

That won't ever end

If we don't get together

My heart will mend

Davie Magill

Lying With You

Lying with you, on the grass the past day
Was the greatest moment I've had! In every single way!
To lie with you was amazing, my hand with your hand
I felt so happy as I slowly watched you slip away, right into dreamland

Your face was so beautiful, in that bright beating sun
I'd never been happier and i tried to think of a day but there were none
And as I lay stroking your hand with my thumb
I sat and i wished that we were alone

But as we discovered no words can cover how i feel!
You spin my world around like I'm on a Ferris wheel!
Now the only thing missing as i lie here in bed!
Is you on my pillow, resting your sweet innocent head

Davie Magill

Man

As i sit the world whistles, a wind through my ears

I feel the world's bristles, scratch at my tears

I feel all that's left, broken and damned

This planet has been shattered, by man's iron hand

The political structures buckle and bend

While men seem to suckle, on this world with no end

Slowly killing each tree, each plant and flower

Man sucking the earth of its sweet natural power

The war on this planet, without reason or cause

Destroying each other, without viewing our own flaws

Who cares for religion, we all worship the same

We've changed the world over; we've made our God tame

This was once a planet of peace, before our time

No police and no armies, a world without crime

But now count the murders that happen each day

The earth would be better if man had no place to stay

Not one of us can live in all harmony

We're missing the small points, life's short quality

We're each like leeches, sucking the earth of its dreams
Draining the world of its "blood", its rivers and streams

If we can't live together should we live at all?

Man has reached its peak, what's next is a fall

We'll go with our planet, we'll kill it ourselves

Go down in a book on another planet's bookshelves

Davie Magill

Callum Is My Inspiration; Hinting On My Love

Where to begin! Such inspiration is here!

I could write a million poems but none would reach near

Near the standard that describes yourself!

Because your indescribable with your ninja stealth!

Your hair is lovely, top notch, cute

Your smile would make anyone talk even a mute!

Your big brown eyes! As deep as the sea

One of the most beautiful things i can see

You look after your animals! You don't even eat meat!

If your ever on my three buses I'll save you a seat

We'll have long conversations! The fun won't ever end

Because your with me and if it's not fun, pretend!!

Sometimes you're a meanie! I bet you plan things with Mac!

I'm on to you Cal! I'm ready for your attack!

But i don't care we'll make up in the end

You're a great guy, and a true special friend

Davie Magill

When All I've got Is You

When we're together

The world seems to fade

You become the centre of all my attention

You're the reason I was made

All I have is you

You make me so proud

I want to live every moment

And tell everyone so loud

Shout to the heavens I love you

At the minute the world hasn't a clue

Davie Magill

Heart

The echo I hear, like a loud beating drum
What is it? I don't know, but it's never done
The rhythm that's there, it never misses a beat!
A deep drum of courage that won't give in to defeat

The world seems to shake, with each beat of its sound
I feel the earth tremble, shake at the ground
What could it be? Nothing is this strong?
It keeps on thumping, on and on and on

Then i realise that you're by my side
My one and only man, with a heart of gold
It makes that big beating sound
That sounds so courageous and bold!

Davie Magill

Water's Edge

That night you left me standing outside, and alone

The rain pouring down

With each droplet a new thread was sown

Slowly connecting the fabrics of space

Slowly entrapping me

In a wet claustrophobic case

Each wall came in and it filled up my lungs

Death taking me apart

With snake's severed tongues

With the water slithering and making its way down inside

I had no control

I almost died

Then I saw you, deep at water's edge

Lowering your hands

Lifting me as strong as a sledge

Then taking me slowly you wrapped your hands around my throat

You pushed me under

And i sank down deep like a wet leather coat

Slowly as I let out my last breath of air

I whispered I loved you

And you didn't care

Davie Magill

All I Want Is You

When all is lost it's you i find
When all I feel is hate, you are kind
All I want is you, you make me feel alone
This broken heart is shattered just like bone

You are the feeling deep inside
A love and hate which i cannot hide
I fear this all must come to a bitter end
But a sweet beginning for you and me my friend

All I want is someone to hold me close
To push me away but at the same time ask me to stay
All i want is somebody I can trust
Someone to throw me away like a piece of dust

It's funny that all I want is you
When making me cry is what you seem to do
Perhaps I'm stupid? Perhaps it's love?
But you and me fit, like a foot in a glove

Davie Magill

Waking Up

I miss you more than ever

I want to hold you near

You are my life, my soul, my heart

You're all that I hold dear

I want that wake up moment

When i can get lost in your brown eyes

Every morning when i wake up

Your face is my surprise

I dunno how you could stay with me

Not somebody who is like you

Maybe that proves everything

Perhaps our love is true

Love is like Gold

Dreams don't always go as planned

Lots of ideas and thoughts are canned

Kicked to the side, then picked up and panned

For the gold below, that lies in the sand

That gold is melted down and used as rings

Such immaterial, useless, marital things

All metals rust, fade away, like winter into spring

Rings might last forever but their meaning could be gone by the morning

What really matters is what lies inside

Whatever you feel and you don't want to hide

The small little four lettered word cannot be denied

We all feel it once, there's no denying it, I love you needs said

But then ashes to ashes dust to dust

Nothing lasts forever, like metal love rusts

It goes back to the soil, were the gold was once panned

Perhaps things don't quite go as we once planned

Leave Me No Longer

Everywhere I look reminds me of you
I can't say the things that really I want to
I see your face in everything I do
I know I'm in love, that one thing is true

Although you're so near, i feel far away
Perhaps I'll tell you one day
At the minute it's not right, i cannot say
I wish thing could stay the way they are, this same way

Before you left, I missed you, near
Your life and safety I cherished with fear
The fear of losing you, would often force me to shed a tear
If i lost you, I'd sit here pining you year after year

Now you've left I miss you, you're far
Far too way, in the sky, you're my star
Leave me any longer and this pain will leave me a star
Without you my heart stops, but nobodies here to perform c.p.r

Frozen

When the words don't come,
The words you need to say
How you need to say "I love you"
"In every single way"

When your emotions take over
And how you feel won't go to words
The tongue seems to fly away
Float off to the air like birds

Your persona with its swagger
Vanishes to an abyss
Throwing away your chances
Of that first all meaning kiss

You can't move but yet you back away
To escape the awkward grasp
And as you muster the power to escape
You let out an intoxicating gasp

Davie Magill

My Friends

Some Friends I have are the best friends I could ask for
I mean with perfection how could you ask for more
Because that's what they are, perfection in each and every single way
They're perfect to me, and that's how they should stay
They've done so much; they make me laugh and smile
I wouldn't take any of them onto Jeremy Kyle
I love our laughs and I love all our inside jokes
But I'll stab you all if I get anymore Facebook Pokes
Some of you I don't talk to much anymore
Some of you still have me laughing and rolling around on the floor
But you are all people i would hate to loose
The bottom line is, I love all of yous

Davie Magill

The End

I look for an answer, but none can be found
Why do people fight on this small insignificant ground?
For money? For drugs? Such immaterial things
Why do we put gold on our fingers in the form of rings?

Everything will vanish; we'll all turn to dust
Nothing exists, once the earth eventually bursts
No memories, no thoughts, the end of war and the beginning of peace
Perhaps peace only exists, when man's life is ceased

But where will we go? Death cannot be the end?
All I want is to say goodbye, it's all I wish for, my friend
I don't want to leave behind, all the people who I love
But i know I'll look after them looking down from above

But eventually everything is forgotten
After all time and history is man made
Eventually we'll be erased from this universe
And all we have left will fade

Davie Magill

Love At Last

When I heard your voice
Something lit up inside
It made me want to come and play
Not stay in, shy and hide

You were that little golden ray of light
In a world that seems so dark
You brightened up my world
My one little burning spark

My day was going so bleak
Yet, you came and turned it around
You seemed to lift me up
My spirit off the ground

At last after years of wondering
If there's someone right for me
You showed up and told me yes
You stand in front of me to see

Tell Me What's Wrong

Talk to me, tell me your feelings

I can tell by your face, you're not the same

You're in pain

You need my help

You can put it off but I know your hurt

You've been let down

You can't smile

Because you're stuck with a frown

Tell me what's up?

Tell me what's wrong

Don't bottle it

To tell me you're gone

I miss you, the happy you

The guy who I love

But now you seem distracted,

Missing, up above

You have something inside

Its eating away

Please tell me before it's too late

I want you to stay...

Davie Magill

Put a Smile on Your Face

Everyone is the same deep inside
Differences make us human, there's no need to hide
When people put you down, they don't mean to hate
It's just your difference they can't contemplate

They don't understand why you feel how you do
It would be much different if only they knew
Some think it's a lifestyle, without reason, a choice
Some just won't listen to the small person's voice

They don't understand it's how you feel in your heart
And their hate to others can tear you apart
But don't let it get you down; you're as brave as they come
There's no need to fight, but never run

Put a smile on your face, show the joy inside
A smile from which they cannot run or hide
Show how beautiful you are, the way you were made
And slowly, the bullying will eventually end

Davie Magill

He Doesn't Want You to Know

Everything that goes on

Outside you and him

He doesn't want you to know

He doesn't want you to know

Everything that goes on

Behind your back, outside you and him

He doesn't want you to know

He doesn't want you to know

You'd take your life, for the guy you love

He's your everything, and you do all you can to make it show

But he doesn't want to know

He doesn't want you to show, or show you, what he doesn't want you to know

He could be breaking your heart

You'll never know,

He could be sleeping about

But you'll never know

He'll always hide, what he doesn't want you to know

He doesn't want you to know

He'll always be hiding, what he doesn't want you to know

To save you from pain, he'll not let it show, what he doesn't want you to know

Davie Magill

Pain in Stereo

In full surround I've felt it all
I've helped you up and let you fall
But what's to gain without you at all?
Nothing but pain, please answer my call

I've heard you cry, the pain in your voice
I stood and I listened without much choice
Now when I call you up, my phone ends up moist
Covered by my tears from the sound of your voice

"leave me a message after the tone"
Slowly my arm lowers as I put down the phone
My heart sinks, it breaks, a pain I've often known
Never finding the one perfect person to keep me going

As I walk away, I pass your picture on my wall
And I utter your name, and out loud I call
And as the tears trickle down my face with all lost hope
A part of me dies because without you I cannot cope

Please come back, please answer your phone, I love you, at least say goodbye,
Please let me hear why

Finish me off, kill me for good

Because there's nothing left without you, all but bad is gone, I'm left without good

I still have your clothes, your sweet scent on my bed

I still have the pillow you once laid your head

It's driving me crazy not knowing why you want me dead

But you do and I love you, that's all that needs to be said

Before I leave this world let me hear your voice one more time

Remind of the voice that used to be mine

Listen to my tears as I slowly go

Listen to my pain in stereo

Please, before you go, open your ears to the sound of my heart

Listen to the cracks how it's been torn apart

Listen to the pain, deep in my voice

Leave me dying without a choice

Just listen to me as I go

The pain of my heart in stereo

Davie Magill

Going Home

When I'm let out, let down, upset
I'll walk straight home through the rain, get wet
'Cause when I lose you, I lose all I have Because without you my heart is halved

So when I lose you, I lose all, my home and my heart
I lose an ending to life and have to go back to the start
The sun will fall and the rain with start
It somehow knows you've torn my world apart

This pathetic fallacy has no reason or rhyme
It's just what happens when I lose what's mine
So I'll go home to a place where I once belonged,
But still a place where love I have longed

No matter where I go, no matter where I stay
I never feel loved, whether it be night or the middle of the day
Maybe I'm in the wrong places, perhaps at the wrong times
But I wish I was loved, not never, not ever, but sometimes

Davie Magill

Mr Whatever Man

"He packed his bags and ran?"

"You both had a fight and then the trouble began"

"I must admit I wasn't a fan"

"But that's me, whatever, Mr Whatever Man"

Some people think I don't care

Well I do and when I don't its rare

My heart is big and it loves to share

My love, it's too big for any one man to bear

When I was with you felt like I was caught in a snare

No escape had to just sit, wait, and stare

Felt like I'd stopped, fell on the stairs

"But I didn't care, whatever, that's me, Mr Whatever Man"

Just going through life without a plan

Occasionally eating out of an old garbage can

And I won't drive a car, I'll aim bigger, I'll drive a van

I don't care how I look, whatever, Mr Whatever Man

I don't care who you are, or where you come from

I'll cheer you up if you're feeling glum

If your breath smells I'll give you some gum

Or maybe squirt you with... Rum

But if you don't like me, for whatever I've done

I don't care whatever, "I'm Mr Whatever Man"

Davie Magill

Scream with Tears of Joy

As I watch you walk away

Without me by your side

All i want it to hold your hand

I want to be your guide

But then i think of all we've done

All we've said and had

I think of all the things you've done

How you've left me feeling sad

My eyes fill up with tears

I just want to cry

And as I see the horizons swallow you

I whisper out "goodbye"

My lip, it quivers, my eyebrows drop

As the first tear trickles down

You completed everything

You were the sceptre to my crown

My head it falls, my heart it breaks

As the first tears hit the ground

I just let my true love walk away

Without a single sound

Then that deep and empty feeling

The feeling of hurt and betrayal

It hurts to think of you, to see your face in my mind

Selfish sweetness is the ultimate portrayal

The tears they drip

Making a puddle around me

Drowning in a sea of depression

My eyes are foggy and I can't see

I can't even think clearly without you

My life is wrong, my world is gone

You left in an instant

I'm still standing here, un-willing to move on

I feel so sick, my stomach churns

As i see you in my head

The image plays over and over again

I regret what I should have done or said

All i want is to kiss those lips, to hold you once more

To relieve myself of pain
As I think of you walking away
I scream out your name

I don't want to live in a world without you
In a world of darkness and unknown
I don't want to live anymore
When I think of where you're going

Please turn around come back, I'd scream with tears of joy
You are my life
My love
My everything
You are my only boy

Davie Magill

Tear the Walls Down

I tear the walls down

Because I'm crazy or because I'm mad

Sometimes i tear them down

Because I'm too angry, but just a tad

Sometimes i tear them down to prove a point

The point is that I'm strong

I can look through your words

And you're lies, and all that you did wrong

But it doesn't hide the fact you hurt me

How we tore the house down that night

It doesn't stop the arguments,

The way they escalated that night

But that won't stop me either

I'll love you just the same

You are my life, my soul, my heart

You are one true aim

Davie Magill

Waiting For a Broken Heart

Every time I fall in love
Fate turns its ugly head
It fights and fights until no more
And my only love is dead

Relationships can fade
And love can pass
For me these two things
Come and go too fast

So when I get a relationship
And when I fall in love
I give up within a day
Because something stops it up above

And if I'm being guided
And I'm meant to be alone
Then I shall lead a sad life
One I can't condone

So if you ever meet me
Or you're a stranger passing bye

I'm the boy waiting for a broken heart

So please kiss me goodbye

Davie Magill

See you later

Why won't you just get out of my head
Before I take a pistol, fill it with lead
I'll put the barrel up against my skull
I'll just have to pull the trigger and then I'm null

A non-existent part in time
Not remembered for a single rhyme
I'll just be left, lying in gore
With my brains spewed across the concrete floor

And you tried and you tried, to tear me apart
And now you've done it, well done, you've ripped out my heart
And there's nothing left, this is my note goodbye, no, carry on reading don't let out a sigh
This is going to be my last and my only goodbye
And now that I've said it i must go die

Some people will say I'm morbid, they'll say i was lost
Well i fell on love with a monster and happiness was my cost
How can i smile with you by my side?
I'll just end it now and face my maker with nowhere to hide

I'll see you in hell, and we can continue this there

But by the time that comes, I'll have taken to the air
I'll have haunted you ass all around the town
I'll steal your smile, get revenge make you frown
I'll see you later bitch; you're going down, down, down.

Davie Magill

Tearing Out the Voices

I've been listening a lot
To the voices in my head
Listening and waiting
They say someday I'll be dead

And they told me you love me
And that i could never amount
Well i won't listen to them
I'll make your love count

What's the point to listen to who's not real
I'll listen to you, the voice in my heart
Not hidden behind a veil

I don't want them to harm you
All o want is for them to stop
They tell me to harm you
And i tell them to drop

Cause the voice in my heart shouts louder than my head
If i were to hurt you a part of me would be dead
And all i want is to keep you safe and out of harm

Because you've stolen my heart, with your kind lovable charm

And it's made me fall in love

You've stolen my heart

For you I'll do anything

Beat all the voices and tear them out

I Thought I heard

Ever since you left, I've been missing you

My eyes are clouded by the tears which I stare through

But lately I've been hurting, all over again

I thought i heard your voice; my heart's driving me insane

The other day i was waiting, watching passers by

Wanting you beside me, asking myself why?

Then for a second, out of the corner of my eye

I thought i spotted you but it was just a random guy

When i got home, got into bed, my sheets still smelt of you

But they were washed that morning, but you still shined right through

And getting up the next morning, i thought you were beside

But it was just a pillow, in reality your gone, outside

And then cooking in the kitchen, i saw a shadow at the door

For a second my heart raced, but it was just the art decor

And then looking out my window, i thought i felt a touch

I turned around immediately, my head not up to much

Then at night I whispered, out aloud your sweet and lovely name

And nobody answered and my heart, it felt the pain

But i know that your inside of me, it's why your always here
You have my heart forever, to me that's been always clear

Davie Magill

Couldn't Amount

Life is going great, my path is going fine

I seem to know where I stand and where to draw the line

But who stands between us? The guy who split us up?

Who was it who broke my heart, who made you give me up?

I'm sorry I couldn't amount to everything that he did

And I'm sorry that I wasn't open, I'm sorry that I hid

But what's left to do now you're gone, I'm lost

I played the field and I risked my heart, losing it is only the cost

And all I've lost is one person on my life, the one I cared so much for

Now I've lost myself, I feel so alone, you've ripped my heart out of my very core

But can you forgive, please you have to try

Because at the minute I can't smile, or see where I'm going through these tears that I cry

Please tell me you love me, it's all I want to hear

The one thing I long for, and cherish so dear

So please let me hear them, put my heart back together after you tore it apart

Maybe this way we can go back to the start.

Davie Magill

Gotta Go

I need you now

I don't know how I let you go

I lost it all, please pick me up

Don't let go, don't let me fall

I'm reaching out, and I can hear you shout

But I can't help but drift away

I can't help but do what's natural

I can't help but fly away, because i can't stay

Just let it go, let me go

Leave our love, move on

It might take you a while to move on

But just let go, because let's face it I'm gone

Davie Magill

Key

Let me open, give me the key

Surely you're not that stupid, not too blind to see

You are my love, you've stolen my heart

Its open to you don't tear me apart

But you won't let me in, you're locked up, you're scared

The difference between reality and your imagination is blurred

You've won my heart, my love and my soul

You are my only lifelong goal

I need you, i want you to see, that without you I'm nothing

And with you I'm more

So give me the key to your heart

Please, let me soar

Davie Magill

After It All

I can still see your tears from before

They've been mopped up and squeezed out, left stains on your floor

I can still see the glass by your door

Left there from the last time, now I'm back once more

We can clean up this mess, this fight and us

We can put down our swords and clean up this mess with little fuss

We can talk to each other, argue and cuss

But i'll stick by you through all that was said

Because you are my life, my foundation, my bread

You were my pillow where I rested my head

You fixed me up when I was beat up and bled

You are my rock, solid like stone

It makes me smile when I see how we've grown

And even though we argue, it's all in the past

Because this is our show, we're a two man cast

I love you, no one could tear us apart

We have shared so many stories, and this still feels like the start

I can't put into words how I feel about you. But I love you, and I hope you love me too

Davie Magill

Projected Memories

Looking back at all the things
Those things that happened
Those times we lost
And look what happened, look what it cost

We lost everything, even ourselves
Each other, our love, all was lost
Lost it all, along the way
We had to fight, like kids we couldn't play

All i have left are pictures, photos
To gather dust in a drawer
To lick my wounds and mend my heart
To recover, after our war

But the photos bring out a side
A side that pulls at my heart,
It makes me sad,
It often tears me apart

Looking back, flicking through my memories
Have them projected on the wall

Leave them for all to see
For my lonely heart to call

Losing you was hard, but not as hard as looking back
Flicking through photos, thinking of you
I want you back, it's all I want,
Don't need anyone new

Davie Magill

My Empty Hall

The room once filled
With love, with joy
The room where children played
With each and every toy

The one room that once had
Your picture on the wall
The empty room now
My empty hall

The room where we danced
Your feet with mine
The room where our music echoed
Time after time

The room where we kissed
For the first and last time
The room that is free
From dirt and from grime

It's the saddest room now
Because of the joy once inside

It's where I go to get away,

To hide

It's a room that reminds me of you

A room that makes me so sad

A room that has gone through good

And is now going through bad

It makes me miss you

It makes me fill up with tears

The time we spent in it

It must have be years

I lost you a while ago

But you once filled these empty halls

Now all I'm left with, is your pictures

Hanging on the walls

Davie Magill

Not Knowing

What If I kissed you?

My last kiss on earth?

I don't know when I'll die

I could die any moment

That one thought feels so twisted and bent

But it's true, I want my last kiss to be with you

I don't know, if I'll ever hold you hand again

Once I let go how will I know?

I won't, I can't tell

But I could die any moment

That's why I don't want to let go

Life is a game; it could be ended with a throw

When I hug you, you could be my last hug

I don't want to leave,

But life treats us like a mug

It could end in an instant

We could be killed by a car

We just don't know,

It sounds so bizarre

When I whisper "I love you"

I want you to know

Those words last forever

I won't ever go

Love is for life, and the unknown beyond

My love for you lasts forever, it has no end

Davie Magill

Funny How You Feel

It's funny how sad you feel
When you see someone you like
Someone you've never even spoken to
But like
And think you'll never see them again

Its funny how that one person's voice
Can instantly make you fall in love
But then you turn around
You never see their face and they're gone

It's funny how your heart beats twice as hard
When you're with somebody you love
But yet
With them you're the most relaxed

It's funny that little thing called love
It makes you do stuff you wouldn't Feel stuff you shouldn't
But lets you down the most

Davie Magill

Changing Like the Seasons

I never thought you'd change
I always thought you'd stay the same
But in some ways you did, and some ways you didn't
And it was this that caused me pain.

You had long hair; you got it cut to short
Now it's grown back to long
You cheated once, you said you'd changed and once again
You cheated for a second time; you caused me so much pain.

The seasons often change, trees through amber, bare to green,
You changed with them
You went from sweet, and beautiful, so blunt and mean.

There's one thing the seasons seem to do,
They go and they come back
Will unlike these seasons, I hope you go away
Your never welcome back

Davie

Gone Without a Glimpse

Love does not come easy

It's often hard to find

I have found it several times

All I have left is my mind

My heart has been so broken

In me love does remain

Hurt so much

My heart will hide away and never love again

Then you come along

Someone I care for so much

I never want to hurt you

So I don't want to share our touch

Everyone I seem to touch

Seems to walk away

Some come and some go

But my love will always stay

This is why I'm leaving

I love you too much to make your hurt

I hope you don't miss me

Let me go, fate won't want to flirt

As much as I hate to leave you

I have to walk out that door

It's because I'll love you always

Please forget me, go back to how it was before

I'd like to dedicate this book to all my friends. Thank you all for your support, for every time you've made me laugh, for every memory we share. I love you all and I know I couldn't have achieved what I have achieved without you.

I'd also like to dedicate this book to the most important person in my life, Callum. I didn't think I'd find true love before I found you. I haven't ever felt this way and I love you, more than anyone or anything. You complete me and I cannot imagine life without you. You're my everything, my heart my soul, my rhythm and rhyme, I know these are only words but words aren't enough to describe how I feel. I know I've written you poems before, but they weren't enough to describe how I feel, but someday I'll write a poem and I will find those words I've been looking so hard for.

I love you Callum, yesterday, today, tomorrow, forever.
